It is well known that Christ was crucified for us, that He died for our sins, and that the punishment for our sins was laid upon Him; but that we were crucified with Him, and that we can and shall, by faith, experience this reality in our lives now, is generally unknown.

This second collection of meditations covers even more themes pertinent to the formation, life, and ministry of the ordained priest. Like Volume One, each theme is one aspect of a common, unifying vision: priestly conformity to the Crucified Christ.

Christ crucified, we preach the glory of heaven conjoined with the beauty of earthâ€”the perfection of humanity united with the Glory and dignity of deity! Then, next, we must very clearly preach Christ as the Messiah, the Sent One of God .

would not know any thing else among you than Christ, who is the wisdom of God, and the treasures of God. Observe, 1. All human wisdom must be denied, when it comes in competition with the doctrine of Christ. 2. Christ and his death is the choicest subject for the wisest ear. 3. As all Christ, so especially his death, is the object of faith. 4.
